TITANS

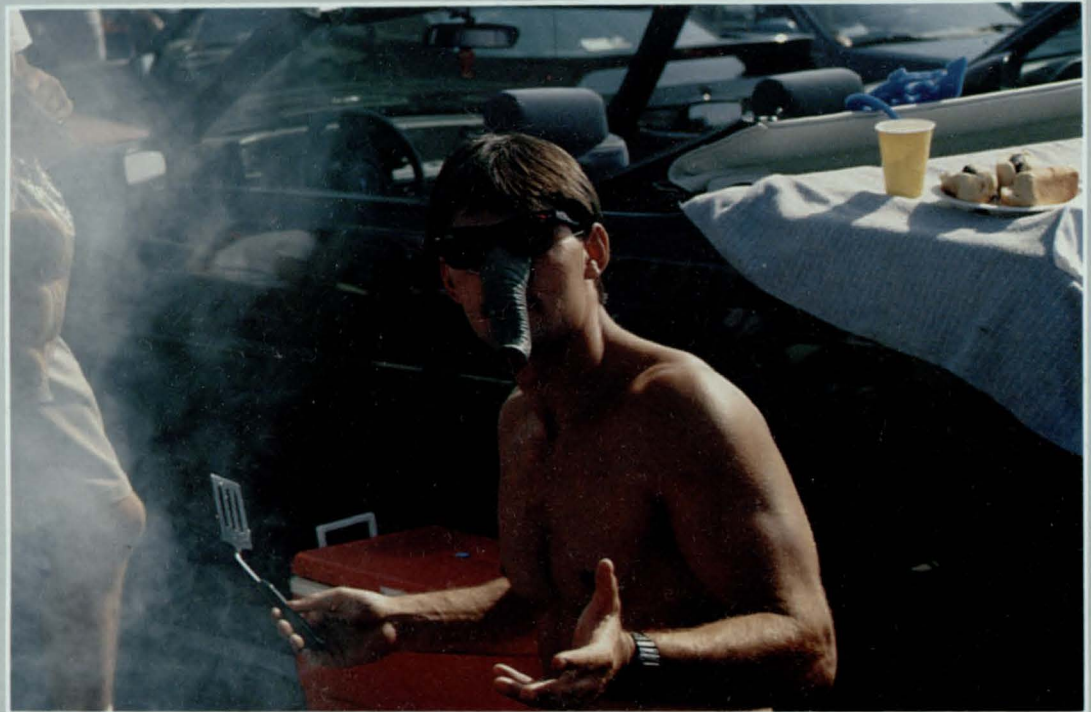

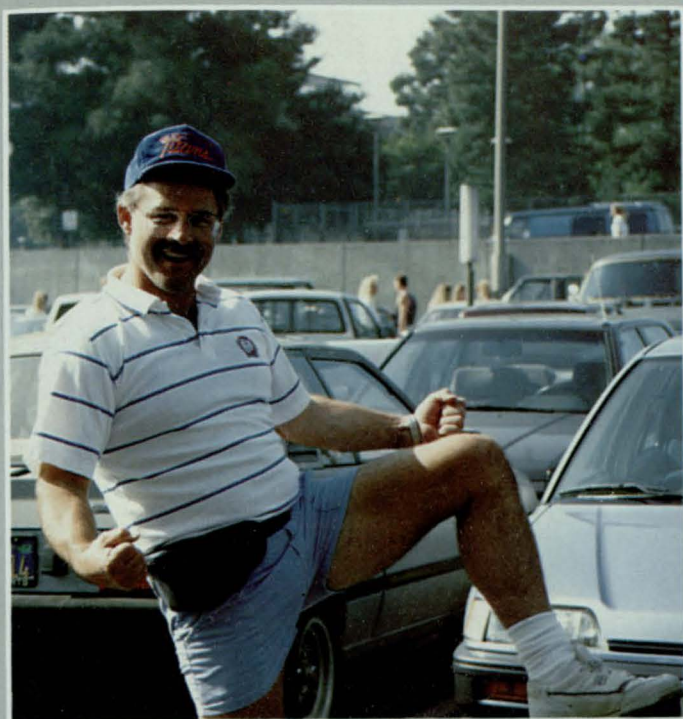

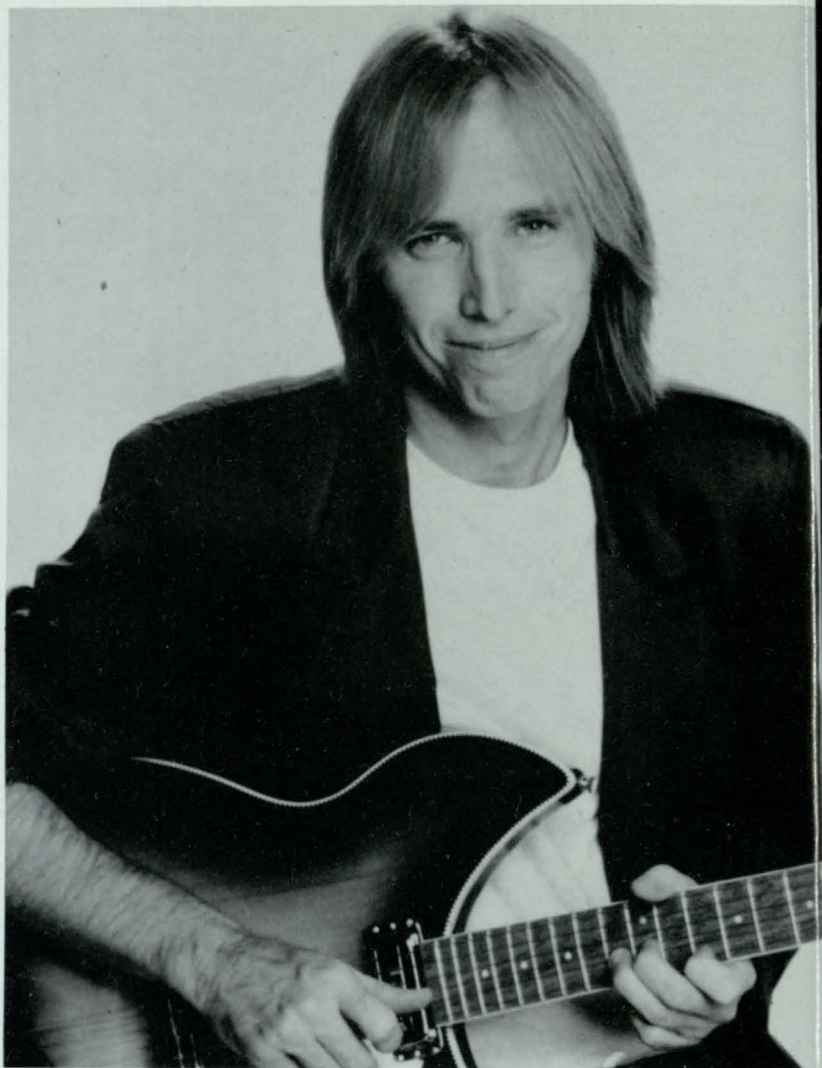

YEAR IN REVIEW

Previous page: Singer Paula Abdul went from being a Laker Girl to one of the hottest all-around talents in the entertainment industry. She got her start teaching Duran Duran and other groups how to dance, and now she tops the music charts herself.

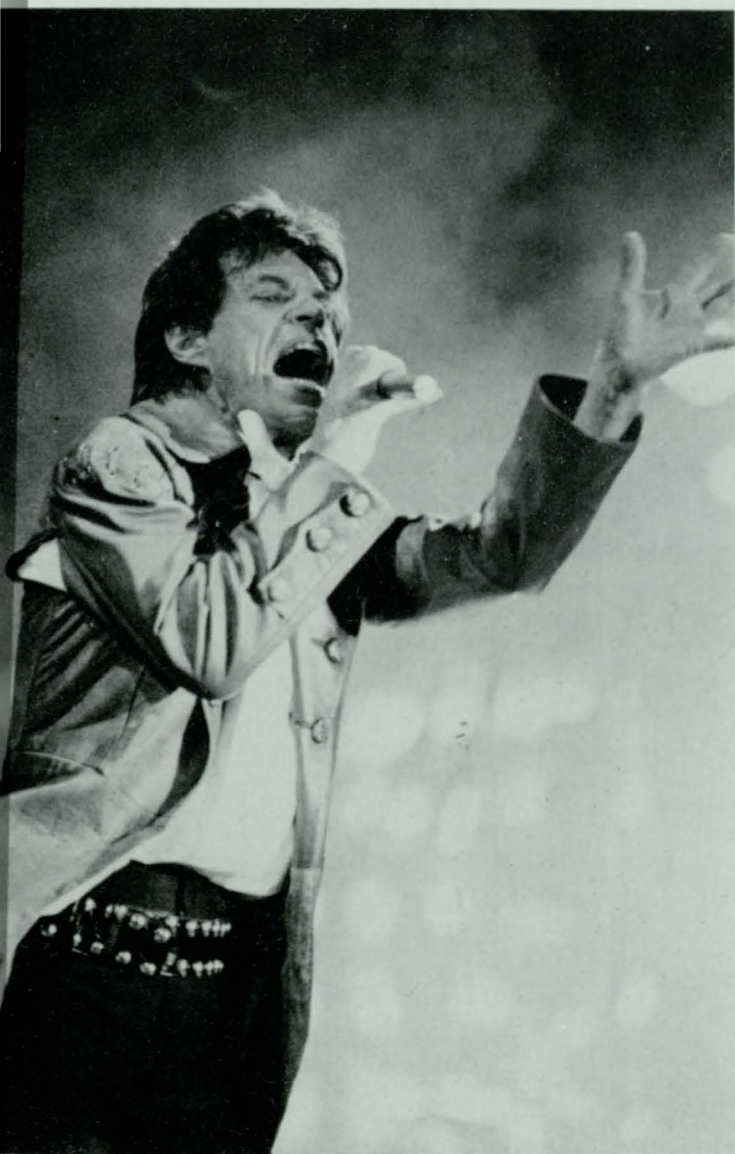

Right: Rocker Tom Petty's album "Full Moon Fever" became an unexpected hit and led to renewed interest in his older music.

Below: As a cruel interruption to the joy of the World Series in the Bay Area, a 7.0 earthquake shook northern California on October 17. More than sixty people were killed, and damage estimates ran as high as two billion dollars.

Above: The Who came out of retirement to embark on a 25-city reunion tour. Roger Daltrey and Pete Townshend were both members of the original group that got its start back in 1964.

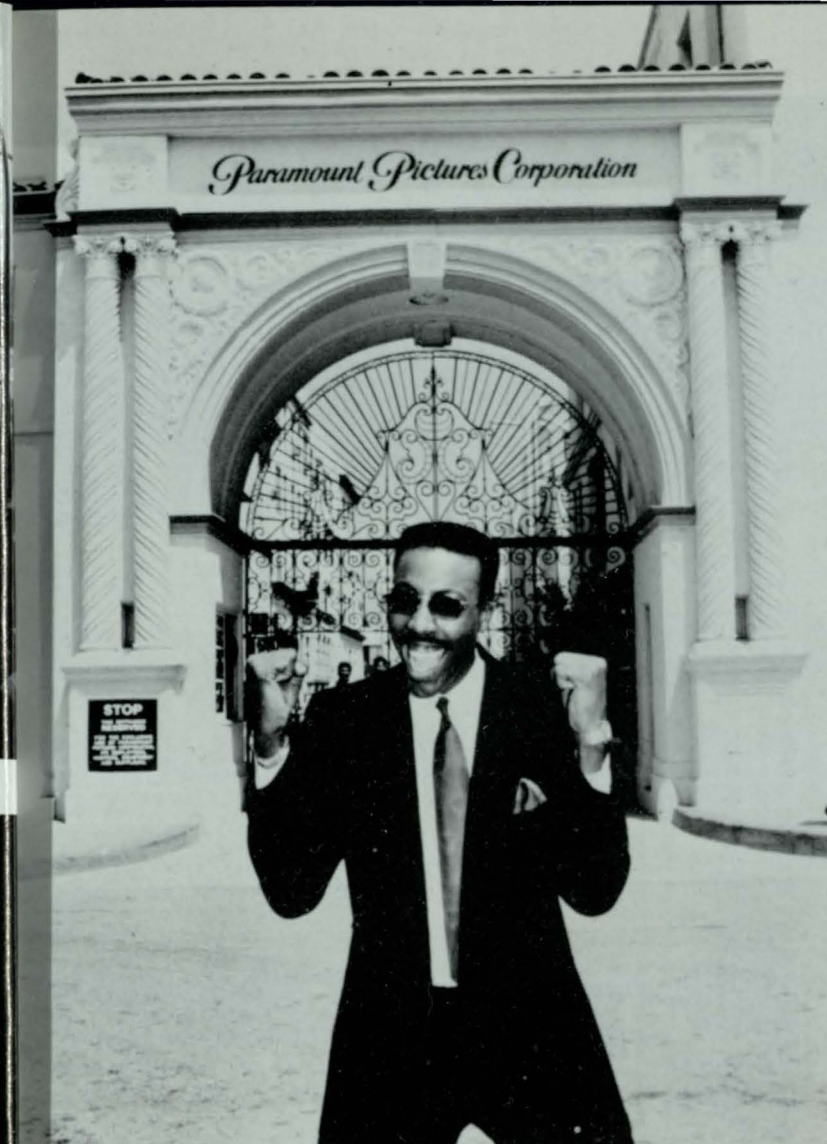

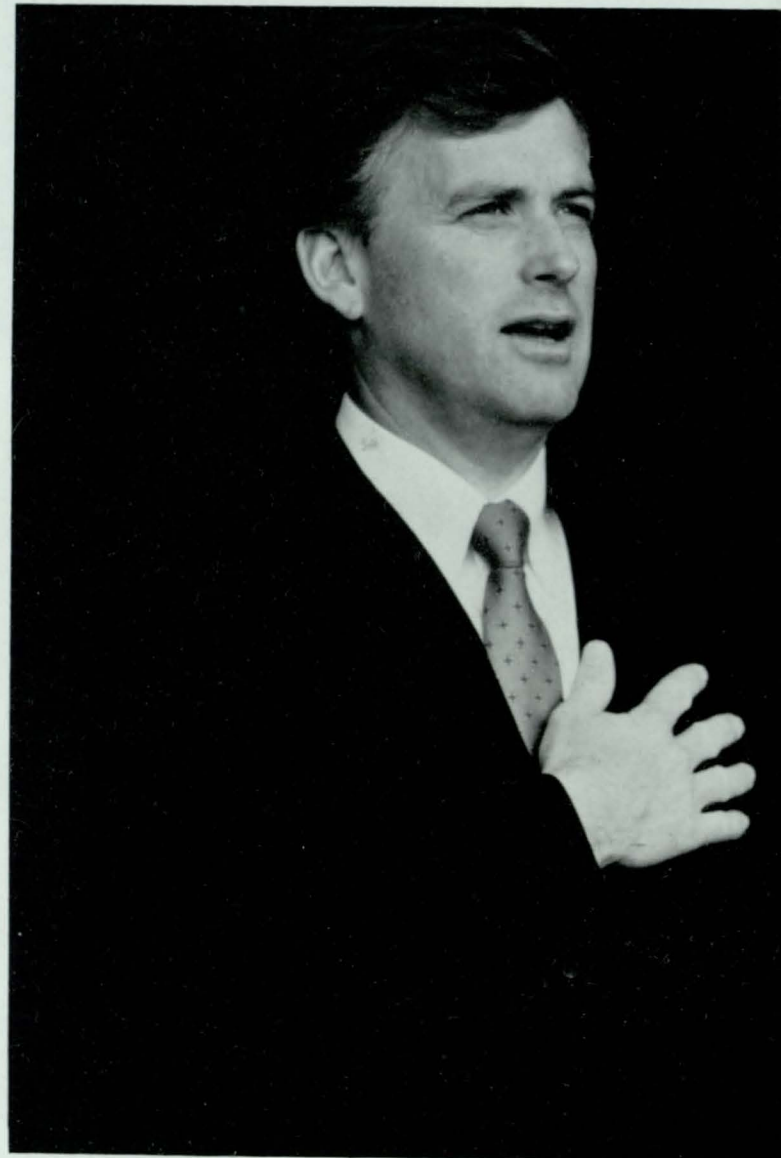

Left: Speaking of comebacks, The Rolling Stones went on a 36-city tour that proved to be an extravaganza in typical Stones fashion — from fireworks to great music. Mick Jagger once again became a very popular figure on the music scene.

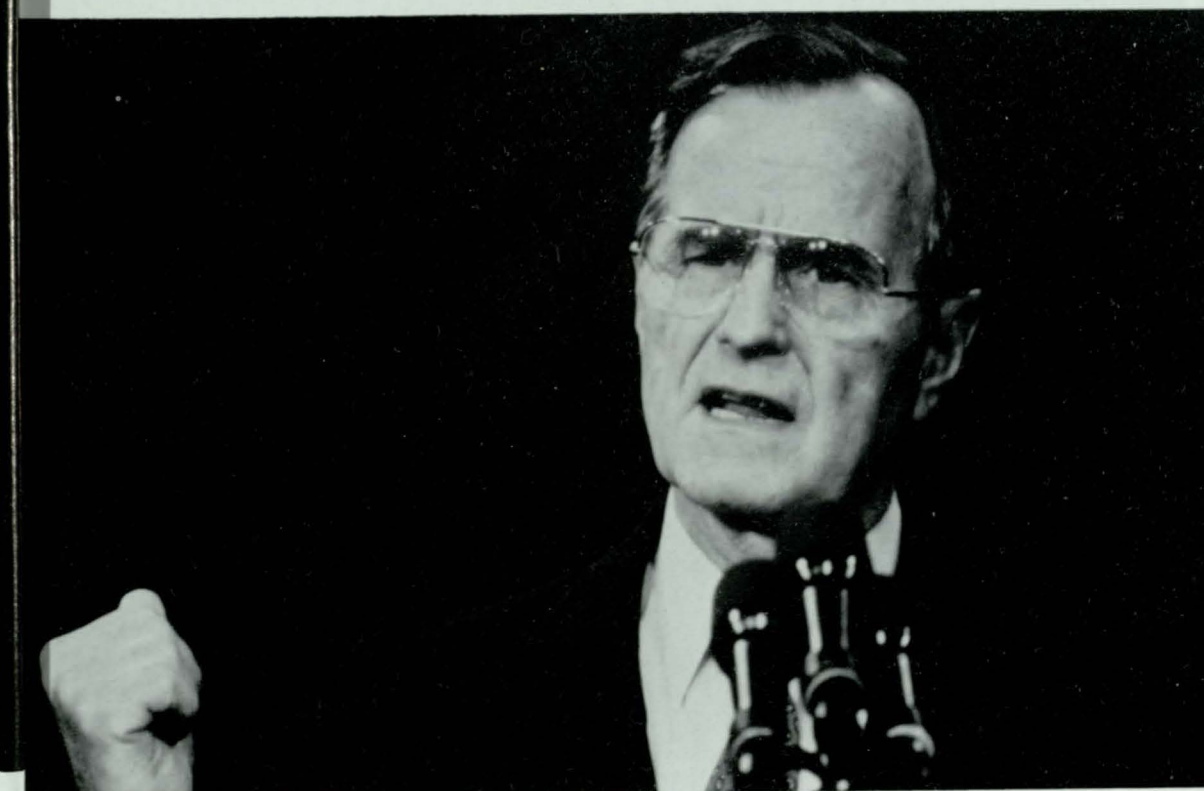

Above: November 10, 1989. The improbable happens as the Berlin Wall finally came down to unite East and West Germany.

Right: "What a waste to lose one's mind - or not to have a mind at all" stated Vice President Dan Quayle at a speech to the United Negro College Fund members. His verbal gaffes became a popular target for comedians.

Left: Let's get busy! Popular comedian Arsenio Hall surprised everyone with sky-high ratings for his late-night talk show.

Below: President George Bush steadily became one of the most popular presidents ever with his back-to-the-basics approach to politics.

Right: The television show "Roseanne" became a monster hit in the Nielsen ratings. The show, which stars John Goodman and Roseanne Barr, is based on the adventures of a middle-class American family.

Below: Tens of thousands of Chinese democracy protesters gathered in Beijing's Tiananmen Square to seek political change. Their protest ended in a massacre, however, as thousands were killed and wounded by government soldiers using tanks and automatic weapons.

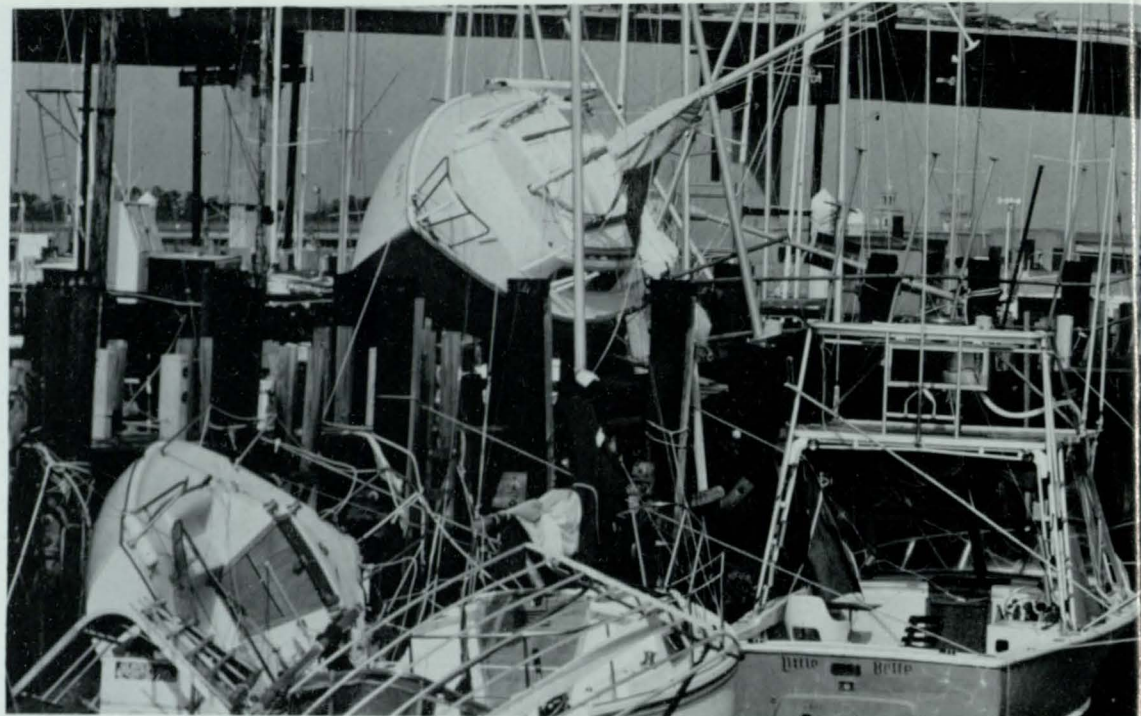

Above: Comic book hero Batman became a movie blockbuster, producing over 200 million dollars in revenue. Michael Keaton played Batman and Jack Nicholson starred as The Joker.

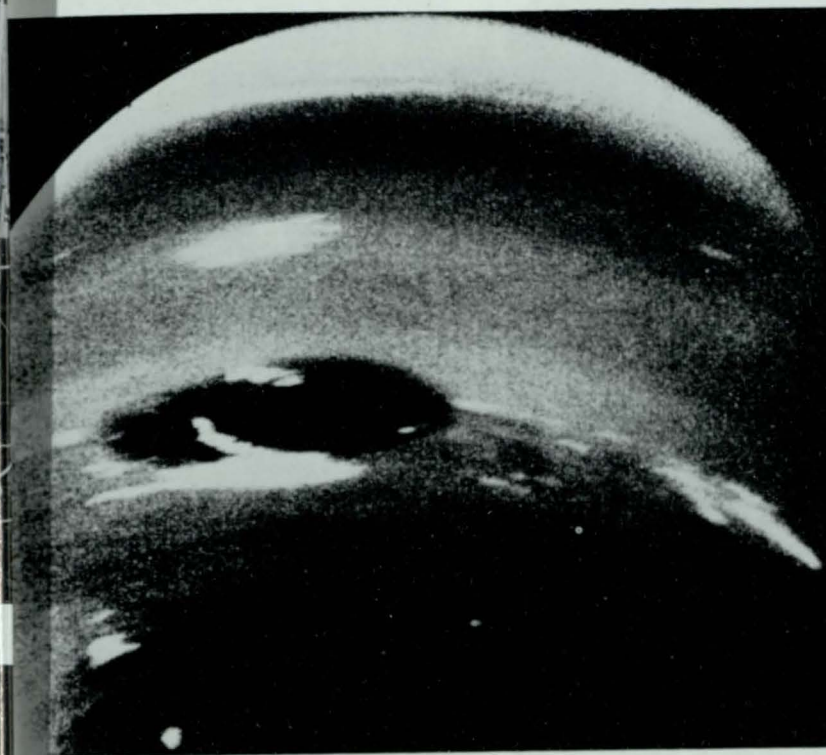

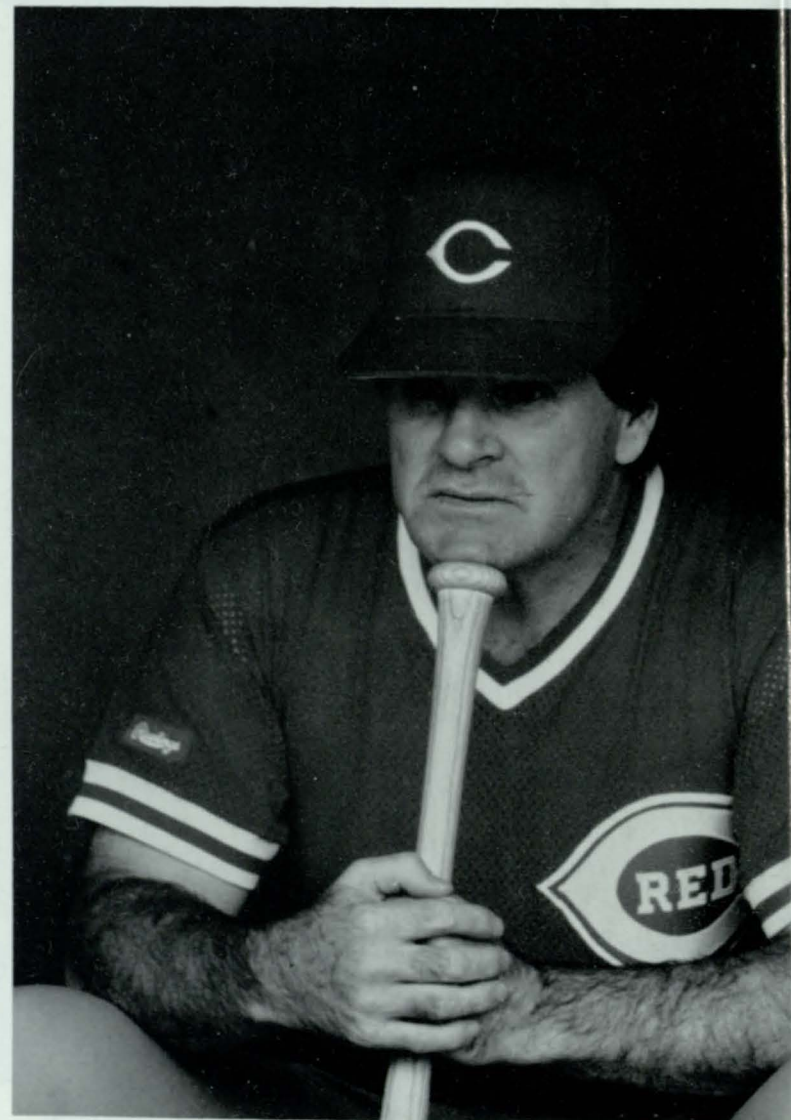

Left: Fab Morvan and Rob Pilatus, better known as the European dance-soul duo Milli Vanilli, hit the United States and topped the music charts with their first two singles.

Above: Hurricane Hugo swept through the Caribbean and slowly made its way to the eastern coast of the United States. It hit Charleston, South Carolina with wind gusts of 135 m.p.h. and caused billions of dollars worth of damage.

Right: Cincinnati Reds manager Pete Rose, one of the greatest players in the history of baseball, was banned for life from the game because of gambling violations.

Left: It was a long trip - 4.4 billion miles in twelve years - but Voyager 2 arrived over the planet Neptune in August. Volumes of scientific information and thousands of photographs were sent back to earth.

Below: William Bennett was appointed by President Bush to end the use of illegal drugs in this country. Bennett hoped to extend the concept of drug-free schools nationally and make punishment mandatory for drug dealers.

Right: Vogue! Madonna's "Blonde Ambition" concert tour and her role in the blockbuster movie "Dick Tracy" kept her fans happy in 1990.

Congratulations class of 1990!

Getting your degree is quite an accomplishment. The C&UF Alumni Association applauds your vision and dedication.

C&UF has come a long way since 1960 when the first graduating class had a total of six members. The university is proud of its progress and even more proud of its alumni. You now join over 70,000 other C&UF alumni, many of whom have made significant contributions to our society. Among our alumni are scientists, authors and artists, professional athletes and entertainers, C.E.O.'s of major corporations, and others representing a wide array of professions.

As a graduate of Cal State Fullerton, you are automatically a member of the C&UF Alumni Association. We have much to offer you in way of benefits and you have a lot to offer us in way of talent . . . so stay in touch. Please contact the office of Alumni Affairs at (714) 773-2112 to inquire about benefits and upcoming events. You can also keep up to date on campus events through the alumni newsletter, Titan News, which you will now receive on a quarterly basis.

I would like to extend a special invitation to each of you to attend Homecoming, held in the fall of each year. It's a great way to keep in touch with your school and fellow classmates.

On behalf of the C&UF Alumni Association, I would like to offer our best wishes as you launch your new careers or continue your education.

Sincerely,

Royleen White
President,
C&UF Alumni Association

Tribute To A President

Dr. Jewel Plummer Cobb, CSUF's third president, announced her retirement effective July 31, 1990.

She was dean of Douglass College at Rutgers and a professor of biological science for five years there before joining CSUF as president and professor of biology in 1981.

Prior to that she was dean of Connecticut College and professor of zoology for seven years and professor of biology at Sarah Lawrence College for nine years.

She received her M.S. and Ph.D. in cell physiology from New York University, and her B.A. in biology from Talladega College.

Dr. Cobb has received 18 honorary degrees and many other honors, and she is known for her activities on behalf of minorities and advancement of women in sciences.

During her stay at CSUF, Dr. Cobb formed two new schools, established a satellite campus in Mission Viejo, and opened the first on-campus student housing complex in addition to her numerous other accomplishments.

At this time, we would like to thank the people who helped out in one way or another with the publication of the 1990 Titan yearbook. Our sincere thanks goes to: The Alumni Affairs Office - Sue, Mary, Patty, and everyone else who put up with us running in and out; The Portrait Gallery - Gary, Judy, Elaine, Michelle, and the gang for making our job a whole lot easier; Jostens representatives Buzz Ponce and Beverly Workman for answering our never-ending questions; Mel Franks and the Titan Sports Information Office for the sports photos and information; Paula Selleck for campus and graduation photos; Julia for a little bit of everything; and everyone else who contributed to this yearbook. We hope you enjoy the finished product and will refer to it often in the years to come.
